Make Me A Picture

St. Mary's Hospital, Lacor Uganda

In September, I was at St. Mary's Hospital Lacor in Uganda. This is the hospital started by the late Dr. Teasdale and her husband Dr Corti. Their daughter, Dr. Dominique Corti now keeps this hospital going, caring for the poor. On this recent visit, I spent time trying to show love to the children with cancer and their families.

My brother in-law Steve Barry and Ashley, Aylas's mother, kindly donated pencils and colouring pencils. While visiting the children with cancer and families, I announced, "I will give each of you 20,000 schillings ($2.50 US) if you make me a picture." All were interested in joining in on the fun.

The next day, I picked up the many drawings. I was so moved and happy, I then gave them three days to make more drawings! I told them I would not give them 20,000 schillings; I would give each of them 40,000 schillings ($5 US)!

So, they were happy!!!

I am sending you one or two of the drawings and a photo of a child with cancer. On the back is a drawing of me. What I like is the crucifix around my neck! Jesus is the answer!!

Thank you and GOD BLESS YOU,
Andrew A. Simone M.D.

PS. All these children have cancer. They might stay 3 or 4 months, so they had a little gift from Canada!!
